Thanksgiving Day is special to our family because not only is it a day to give thanks and appreciation for everything that we have, but it is also a day to leave work and school behind to get together and reconnect. Most of us only see each other on these special occasions so we make sure to put aside a few hours for family on this day. Each year we decide which home or restaurant we will gather at and then make plans accordingly. If it is in someone's home, as it was this year, each family brings a dish or two and it becomes a potluck Thanksgiving dinner. It is great to see one another, eat lots of food, watch football and catch up on news such as our children's achievements in school, meet new significant others, etc...

My dad, saying a blessing for the food:

"I'm grateful to god for a loving family, and for surrounding me with good people"
