Matched with a professional mentor

Lenox Hill Hospital will be running another high school summer internship program this year. The program will run 4 weeks in July and August, with the interns coming to the hospital 3 days each week. Each intern will be partnered with a mentor with whom they will spend 2 days a week. This time will involve shadowing daily activities, exposure to department operations and observation of different clinical and administrative areas. On the third day of each week, interns will meet together for four different enrichment sessions which will include direct observation of other clinical or procedural areas of the hospital and will give students the opportunity to engage in informal discussions groups with senior hospital department heads. The program will be a wonderful opportunity for students interest in a career as a practicing physician or nurse and will introduce them not only to different specialties, but also the many other career opportunities available in a renown teaching hospital.

The hospital staff who worked with Jailine last summer were very impressed with her work ethic, intellectual curiosity, manners, and compassion for the patients she encountered.

Opening Doors to a Dream Career

This year 2 students from the High School for Health Professions and Human Services won prestigious Posse Scholarships. Posse which awards full college tuition to students with extraordinary academic and leadership potential who may be overlooked during the traditional college selection process. Tobi Alawode, a senior at HPHS, was one of them. "At first I really wasn't confident I would get it, but then I got so much encouragement from my CDI advisors that I began to think that maybe I really could!" CDI advisors worked closely with 15 other students who were finalists for the highly selective scholarship, which is awarded by the Posse Foundation to 6,264 high school seniors across the country to attend the college of their choice. Awardees are selected through a unique group model based on the philosophy that students succeed in college when they have the support of their peers, or posse.

The scholarship could not have come at a better time for Tobi and her family. "My parents come from Nigeria and they work hard to afford college for me and my siblings. They are already paying for my brother's tuition, and sometimes it gets overwhelming. So when I got the Posse Scholarship we were all so excited and relieved. It will open up so many doors for me. I've always been fascinated with childbirth and pregnancy and with helping others, so I want to go on to medical school to be an OBGYN." Tobi will be headed to the University of Wisconsin at Madison this fall where she plans on pursuing a pre-medical track.
